Youth Empowerment Services (YES)
July 1, 2018 Implementation

May 15, 2018

Dear Providers,

In our continued commitment to keep you updated regarding Youth Empowerment Services (YES), we are notifying you of changes to the Idaho Behavioral Health Plan (IBHP), effective July 1, 2018.

This implementation includes new services and updates to some current services, resulting in revisions to the Level of Care Guidelines (LOCG's), Provider Manual and Fee Schedule. Training & Education opportunities and resources will be offered by Optum as the new and updated services are implemented.

New & Updated Services

The new services being implemented effective July 1, 2018 include the following:

- The Child & Adolescent Needs & Strengths (CANS), the State approved Functional Assessment tool
- Case Consultation, which reimburses providers for time spent on formal consultation with other professionals not in the same agency regarding a member's care; and
- Child & Family Team (CFT) Interdisciplinary Team Meeting, which reimburses providers for time spent in meetings with formal Child & Family Teams.

Existing services will be updated to include language from the Jeff D. Settlement Agreement, along with other clarifications on service delivery:

- Skills Building/CBRS, which focuses on building a youth's competency and skills while increasing functionality in social, communication, rehabilitation, behavioral, or other skills while decreasing behavioral health symptoms;
- Respite, short-term, temporary care for a youth with serious emotional disturbance; and
- Outpatient Services, services such as Treatment Planning used to treat mental health conditions.

The LOGCs for the new and updated services will be posted on the Optum Idaho website on June 1, 2018. Please review the LOGCs at optumidaho.com > "Network Providers" > "Guidelines & Policies" > "Level of Care Guidelines Documents".

The Provider Manual is being updated to include the information for YES services and will be available online July 1, 2018. The Provider Manual is located on our website: optumidaho.com > "For Network Providers" > "Guidelines and Policies" > "Provider Manual".
