

PROVIDER ALERT

Positive Behavioral Intervention Support (PBIS) Training

February 14, 2020

Alert Summary: This alert provides details about provider training for participation in the PBIS protocols for clinical service provision in the school setting. This training has been designed through the auspices of Optum Idaho, the PBIS team at Boise State University (BSU) and Region 10 of the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) to provide training for clinicians in the Optum Idaho network.

Dear Provider,

Thank you for your ongoing partnership as we continue implementation of services for child and adolescent Medicaid members. This training is an opportunity to enhance your clinical skills while providing services in a school-based setting.

In collaboration with the stakeholders mentioned above, Optum Idaho is offering a two-day training seminar at three locations throughout the State, available at no cost to currently active Optum network providers. These two-day seminars will focus on the role of the clinician in providing coordinated care within the school setting using the PBIS system of behavioral support and management. As will be defined in the training, clinicians can provide expert clinical support within the Tiered Model of Care for children in the school setting.

This training experience has been derived from a full scale model that typically employs a four-day scope of learning for other non-clinician stakeholders. However, given the unique role of the clinician within Tier 3 of the PBIS model, this two-day training will provide sufficient exposure for the clinician to effectively participate within the team model.

Seating for these trainings is limited to 50 participants in each venue, and no more than three clinicians from a single provider agency. Registration for the training seminars will be coordinated through the BSU Positive Behavior Intervention Support offices. Click here to register. Please note that you will be asked to include your NPI number with your registration on the BSU site. In the event you are a network provider without an NPI number, click here to acquire one that will be specific to you.

The dates for these trainings have been identified as follows and times will be listed on the registration website:

Boise:	February 24-25, 2020	Boise State University Alumni Center
Idaho Falls:	March 19-20, 2020	Hilton Garden Inn
Coeur d'Alene:	April 1-2, 2020	Best Western Plus

Thank you,
The Optum Idaho Team
